Coral Gables Trust, the fastest-growing trust and wealth management firm headquartered in South Florida, recently held its popular Dynamic Wealth Speaker Series, featuring renowned Wall Street strategist Steve Chiavarone. Hosted by Donald A. Kress, CEO and president of Coral Gables Trust, along with Managing Director John W. Harris, the luncheon at The Ritz-Carlton Coconut Grove was attended by a mix of local civic and business leaders and Coral Gables Trust clientele. A prominent figure in the financial world, Chiavarone is senior VP and portfolio manager at Federated Hermes, and a sought-after contributor to CNBC, Bloomberg, Fox Business News, the Wall Street Journal, and The New York Times. Chiavarone previously spoke at a Coral Gables Trust event, accurately predicting the ensuing rise in inflation in February 2022. Chiavarone's recent presentation in November focused on the state of the economy, the impact of the wars in Ukraine and Gaza, the possibility of a recession, and – last but not least – the upside potential for a bull market.
